A Shepherd Whose Origins...

A Shepherd Whose Origins Are From Of Old

But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, though you are small among the clans of Judah, out of you will come for me one who will be ruler over Israel, whose origins are from of old, from ancient times. - Micah 5:2

He was in very nature God, and he dwelled on high, yet Jesus came to live among his flock. His origins were from of old, for He was with God in the beginning (John 1:2), yet he lived in small towns like Bethlehem and Nazareth. He is the Word and the radiance of God's glory, yet Jesus took up our burdens, and he became flesh like on of us.

He is our Prince of Peace who rules with truth and compassion and mercy -

He will stand and shepherd his flock in the strength of the Lord, in the majesty of the name of the Lord his God. And they will live securely, for then his greatness will reach to the ends of the earth. - Micah 5:4

Jesus came to be our heavenly Shepherd who patiently calls his scattered sheep to return to him, and he guides us with his faithful care and with the strength of his grace. And the earth is full of the of the greatness of the Lord's understanding and his love for us.

And he will be our peace when the Assyrians invade our land. - Micah 5:5

Jesus came to give us the peace that flows like a river, even as we must endure the Assyrians of the world's restlessness and as we must face the Babylonians of the world's futile thinking, for Jesus has given us the sure sign of his cross that our God is near.

The remnant of Jacob will be in the midst of many peoples like dew from the Lord, like showers on the grass, which do not wait for anyone or depend on man. - Micah 5:7

And our Heavenly Father pours out his grace on those who seek him in truth; he renews our parched spirits with showers of living water, and our God produces a garden of spiritual fruit that does not depend on human strength nor on human planning. God has made many good promises, and they are all fulfilled in Jesus.

Desiring to Know Jesus More

Thy glory o'er creation shines;
But in thy sacred word
I read, in fairer, brighter lines,
My bleeding, dying Lord.
Tis here, whene'er my comforts droop,
And sins and sorrows rise,
Thy love, with cheerful beams of hope,
My fainting heart supplies.
But ah, too soon, the pleasing scene
Is clouded o'er with pain;
My gloomy fears rise dark between,
And I again complain,
Jesus, my Lord, my life, my light,
O come with blissful ray,
Break radiant through the shades of night,
And chase my fears away.

- Anne Steele (abridged), 1717-1778
